Technical support through digital channels for Personal

I provide comprehensive support to residential customers, answering queries, resolving technical issues, and offering expert guidance on optimal use of contracted services. My proactive, customer-centric approach has ensured a positive experience and maximization of the value of the services offered.

I perform detailed analysis of problems reported by customers, identifying underlying causes and working to find effective solutions. This includes carrying out connectivity tests, verifying equipment and system configuration, and applying appropriate technical solutions to ensure customer satisfaction.
